Get Prepped!

- Fill and boil your kettle.
- Trim the root from the bok choy and slice into roughly 2cm chunks.
- Halve the chilli lengthways, deseed then finely chop.
- Zest and halve the lime.

Get Cooking!

- Heat a drizzle of oil in a large saucepan over medium-high heat.
- Add the Yellow Thai paste and cook, stirring, for 1 minute.
- Add the coconut milk, boiling water (see ingredients for amounts), peanut butter, half the red chilli and a pinch of sugar. Bring to a simmer.
- Add the egg noodles, stir to break up, and cook for 1 minute.
- Add the prawns, mangetout and bok choy, stir well and cook until the prawns are cooked and the noodles are tender, 3-4 mins. IMPORTANT: The prawns are cooked when pink on the outside and opaque in the middle.

Finish and Serve!

- Once the prawns are cooked, stir through the lime zest and soy sauce (see ingredients for amount you need) with a good squeeze of lime juice.
- The noodles may soak up some of the coconutty liquid. If this is the case, just add a splash of water to get it back to a soupy consistency.
- Taste and season with pepper and more lime juice if you like.
- Divide the laksa between bowls and top with any remaining chilli. Cut any remaining lime into wedges and serve with the laksa.

Enjoy!
